The key to our heart

Izelle Behr and Jeanette Birrell (Director TPSA) at the 2006 Fundraising Art Auction during which over R130 000 was raised for the cause.

Court Classique has a heart for the city and guests at the hotel are afforded the opportunity to contribute R1 per room per night to our charity fund. All funds collected are matched Rand for Rand and distributed to various charities in our city. Each charity is also afforded an opportunity to host an annual fundraising cocktail party at our hotel. We support various charities, but our core projects are:

The Eduplex, which is the first school in South Africa that teaches the inclusion of deaf and hearing children into one classroom, where we sponsor the education of a hearing impaired learner. Visit www.eduplex.co.za for more information. Picture caption: Luthando Duma and his class mates at the 2006 Christmas party

The Tshwane Place of Safety Association, which is a non-profit organisation that provides a place of safety to abused and abandoned babies until they are formally placed in foster or adoptive care. They currently have over 150 babies and toddlers placed in over 100 private volunteer homes. www.placeofsafety.org.za

We have also adopted the two star Re Etile Family House B&B in Eersterust, just outside of Pretoria. Owner and hostess Agnes Rennie benefits from our marketing expertise and referrals for clients who want to experience township life. Email agnesr@tiscali.co.za for more information

'Don't just bring fish to the hungry but teach them to fish'

The aim of the KWATHLANO CULTURAL & HERITAGE FOUNDATION (ART. 21) is to facilitate sustainable economic and social development and child care in one of our local communities - Soshanguve Township. We aim to make our philosophy - "don't bring fish to the hungry but teach them to fish" - a part of every youngster's approach to life. We therefore work together, KC & H Foundation, teachers, children and parents with all projects to ensure sustainability. Support our children by touring with us.

Lindie Stiehler, Director of the KC & H Foundation with children from the project.
